

Jobs in Factories, Shipyard Airplane plants. So women stepped up and out of the home offices, traditional "women's" and did "men's work"

Rosie the Riveter was the poster you saw everywhere.
The impact was realizing what a great contribution the war effort women were making

we had a aunt who worked Hood Rubber Company. making tires and boots. I had a friend who was Rosie the Riveter worked in California building planes

5 The NAZI Death Camps

women left the jobs that men had been doing; but we were on the MARCH!
the real start of Women's Rights Movement

The impact on women was the realization. we were smart. Capable and not "the little woman, any more."
took us some time, women forget how long the march for women's equality really

Make a contribution to society. education

thanks for the opportunity
